Negroes Plan a Selective Buying Protest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negro students at a meeting in Raleigh, N.C., today were considering a nation-wide campaign of selective buying and the training of volunteers willing to go to jail rather than pay fines for violating segregation laws.

Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, Negro integration leader, recommended the proposals as a means of helping carry the struggle against racial segregation "into every nook and cranny" of the South.

King described the weekend gathering of students from eight Southern states as a "strategy for victory" meeting.

While the students were arriving fights broke out between on-lookers and pickets demonstrating against lunch counter segregation in the Raleigh business district. It was the first violence in the city in more than a month.

A white youth who joined Negro demonstrators was knocked down and beaten by an unidentified white man. Police said John J. Northrop, 23, a student at Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, Rochester, N.Y., suffered a cut on the chin which required seven stitches to close.

Pickets also paraded for three hours in front of downtown Little Rock, Ark., stores, along sections of a New Orleans street, and before the White House in Washington, D.C.

Four teen-age Negroes were arrested on charges of disturbing the peace when they asked for library cards at Winnfield, La. The librarian said books generally are made available to Negroes through high school teachers who call for them.

At Memphis, Tenn., five Negro students were arrested after they refused to leave the municipal museum, open to Negroes only on Tuesdays.

Senator Tells Importance of Probes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.) said today that 29 persons, one union and four companies were indicted by federal courts during 1959 as a result of investigations by his Senate racketeers subcommittee.

Offenses charged, he said, ranged from extortion to income tax evasion.

McClellan said it was important that the work of the committee be continued "to bring to the attention of Congress any loopholes in the law by which racketeers seek to return to power and influence in the labor management field."

McClellan, vacationing in Arkansas, discussed operations of the committee in a statement. He said the work would be continued by the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations of the Senate Committee on Government Operations. McClellan is chairman of both the subcommittee and the full committee.

Despite vigorous opposition by some organized labor leaders, McClellan succeeded earlier this week in getting Senate authority to transfer records of the racketeers subcommittee to the investigations subcommittee. He also obtained a $75,000 appropriation to carry on investigations work.

McClellan said enactment of the labor-management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 is "no longer urgent need for continuous large-scale investigations such as were conducted by the Racketeers Committee."

But the senator said the labor-management situation would bear watching and his investigations subcommittee, with the staff and records of the Racketeers Committee at its disposal, is "best equipped to handle this job most economically and efficiently."

McClellan said during an interview yesterday that he would make "a political announcement" before he returns to Washington next week. This was taken to mean he will announce for reelection. McClellan's third term in the Senate expires next January.

To Celebrate Resurrection of Christ

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The resurrection of Christ, the most glorious of all Christian holidays, will be celebrated Easter Sunday with prayer and song and story from mountain top and valley and from coast to coast.

The most spectacular services are planned for outdoor arenas. But millions of Americans will celebrate the Holy Day to the ring of Psalms and the tang of incense in the privacy of their churches.

Before and after religious services, traditional Easter parades will give worshippers a chance to display spring finery. The greatest of these is New York's annual Fifth Avenue parade, when tens of thousands turn the normally busy artery into a mall. Police headquarters has ordered advertising and other commercial features barred from the parade.

Manhattan's other major Easter event will be the 41st annual Easter dawn service which is expected to draw a capacity 7,000 to Sixth Avenue's Radio City Music Hall. The congregation will be asked to pray that Christ's influence be felt at the impending summit conference of the Big Four nations.

On the West Coast, Yosemite National Park in California boasts the latest sunrise Eastern service: in all the 50 states. The sun does not pierce the shadow of Half Dome Mountain to bring dawn to Mirror Lake until 9:15 a.m. A college of the Pacific choir will greet this belated sunrise from a spit of land on the shore of the lake.

Russian Autos Arrive in U. S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The first volume shipment of Soviet-built automobiles will arrive in the United States next month, imported by Robert J. Castle of Syracuse, N.Y., said today.

The car is the four-cylinder Moskvich which will carry a New York port of entry price of $1,500. Delivered in New York the car, slightly larger than most European imports but a shade smaller than domestic compacts, will cost about $1,620 including taxes.

The Moskvich is one of the 311 models from 86 manufacturers which will be displayed at the International Auto Show opening here Saturday. Its styling is somewhat similar to the Fords of the early 50s and the show models come complete with the Soviet red star as a radiator ornament.

Another new foreign car was introduced here Thursday, the Toyota Tiara from Japan. Toyota has been in the American market for two years with a larger car but the Tiara is sized and priced with Volkswagen and Renault.

Christians of World Joyous Over Easter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians around the world prepared today for the joyous celebration of the Resurrection of the Savior, Jesus Christ.

Worshippers will celebrate with prayer, song and reverent exaltation the most glorious Christian holiday of all, Easter Sunday.

Wherever there exists the sign of the Cross, the reverent will make their way to mountain-top altars, to valley shrines, to outdoor arenas and to churches ringing with the happiness of psalms.

Wherever they gather in Christendom, men of all colors and races will hail the risen Christ.

Christian communities observed the solemn Good Friday ritual commemorating Christ's betrayal, passion and death.

In Jerusalem, soldiers of peace walked the way of the Cross. Troops of the United Nations emergency force were among the 12,000 pilgrims who followed the heavy wooden crosses on the route Jesus took from his trial to his crucifixion and burial.

In Rome, Pope John XXIII, commemorating Christ's death on Calvary, walked in stockinged feet and knelt to kiss a cross.

The Pontiff bowed his head while a preacher described the suffering of Roman Catholics in Communist lands as "an immense and solemn Good Friday passion that has been intensified and prolonged."

In a Good Friday message for America, the Pope wished for peace and prosperity and expressed hope for "a just and lasting concord between all people."

Publisher Held by Man for an Hour

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A man held the publisher of the Lewistown Sentinel prisoner in his office for nearly an hour today in an effort to get a story printed on the front page of the paper.

One shot was fired but the publisher, C. V. Rowland was unhurt.

The man was identified tentatively by employees of the paper as Charles Lynch, 37, a laborer at a brick plant. He was captured by police.

Employees said the man walked into the publisher's office shortly before Rowland arrived.

When Rowland came in Lynch handed him two typewritten sheets of paper. The publisher said the man told him: "I want this printed on the front page of tonight's paper with my picture. You just tell me you won't publish this and I'll shoot you dead."

Rowland said Lynch pulled out a .22 caliber target pistol and fired a shot which missed him by a foot or two.

Rowland said he thought he could get rid of the man by instructing editor J. Martin Stroup to print the matter. But after Stroup left the office, the publisher reported Lynch blocked the door with a chair and said he was going to wait with Rowland until the paper came out.

Borough police investigated but Lynch told them: "You get out of here or Rowland gets it."

Then state police were notified. State Trooper Joseph J. Miriel, watching from a side window, signalled the other officers to rush in when he saw the man put the gun in his lap and gesture with both hands while talking to the publisher.

Employees of the paper said Lynch had tried a number of times over the years to get articles printed.

Sentinel newsman Dick Rubel said the copy today was similar to previous articles. He described it as "religious in nature but with no meaning, almost incoherent."

No charges were placed immediately.

Department Store Sales Increase

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis said today department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended April 9 were 21 per cent above those of the corresponding week last year.

For the four weeks ended April 9, district sales were five per cent above the comparable period of last year. Cumulative sales for the year to date were two per cent below the corresponding period of 1959.

Last week, the Louisville area had the highest rise of 33 per cent. St. Louis was next with 22 per cent. The Memphis area had 17 per cent. Little Rock 15 per cent and sales in seven smaller districts were up 13 per cent.

DeGaulle to Visit President's Farm

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will take French President Charles de Gaulle to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., for a tour and policy talks during De Gaulle's forthcoming visit.

This was disclosed today in De Gaulle's official itinerary issued by the State Department. De Gaulle is arriving Friday April 22 and the trip to the farm will be made two days later, Sunday, April 24.

The two leaders will return to Washington that day in time for De Gaulle to give a reception for Washington's French community at the French Embassy.

De Gaulle will have other meetings with Eisenhower after his arrival at noon April 22.

Sentence of Slayer Cut by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus has cut from 18 to 12 years the prison sentence of William A. Downen, 30, of near Hot Springs, for the slaying of his stepdaughter in 1955.

Son of a former Garland County sheriff, Downen was convicted of second degree murder for killing Martha Jackson, 14, by striking her with a rock and then hiding her body in a well.

Downen said they argued over a proposed trip to the Arkansas Livestock Show here.

He said he hadn't intended to kill the girl but had broken down under the strain of trying to support 14 children and stepchildren.

The governor's action makes Downen eligible for parole. The commutation was recommended by State Parole Board.

Faubus yesterday also issued seven other commutations, all recommended by the Parole Board.

These included a reduction of from 10 to three years in the second degree murder term of Phil Cannon of Marked Tree.

Cannon was sentenced March 24, 1959 for the fatal shooting of another man at Victoria in September, 1958.

Faubus pardoned James A. Ashcraft, sentenced last June 10 from Mississippi County to serve one year for overdraft.

Ban-Bomb Pilgrimage to London

ALDERMASTON, England (AP)—Jazz bands blared, bagpipes wailed, a baby howled—and about 9,000 demonstrators set off today on a ban-the-bomb pilgrimage to London.

Britain's nuclear weapons arsenal here was the starting point for the 54-mile protest march this Easter weekend by a diversified band, young and old, gay and grim.

Organizers said the straggling, banner-waving procession—swelled by a sizable group of Communists—will develop into "as big a demonstration as Britain has ever seen."

They expect 6,000 more to join before the marchers wind up at a mass rally in Trafalgar Square Monday.

Hundreds of banners proclaimed: "We want to live—disarm now!" "H-bombs mean death—no Hiroshima here."

Jazz-happy juveniles set a carnival mood for the procession, stretching about three miles along quiet country roads.

Bearded beatniks and black-stockinged girls lived to four Dixieland bands. Dozens of children marched with their parents. A few infants made the trip in baby carriages.

One group sang to the tune of John Brown's body:

"Ban, ban, ban the bloody H-bomb! Or we'll all be dead next year."

Behind a kilted piper playing a Scottish lament marched Canon John Collins of St. Paul's Cathedral.

Collins is a member of the campaign for nuclear disarmament, which organized the march.

No Forest Fires Is the Report

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas apparently had no forest fires today for the first time in the past three weeks.

State Forester Fred H. Lang said that 11 fires involving 2,730 acres were extinguished yesterday.

He said that by day's end no fires were still burning as far as forestry officials knew. That was all but true today, he said. All but less than 30 of the acres burned over yesterday were in from an attempt on his life Saturday was announced at Pretoria General Hospital.

First Union Easter Sunrise Services Was Held in School Stadium on March 28, 1937

By MARY ANITA LASETER

"Christ the Lord is risen today!" will echo in the hearts, minds, and voices of people throughout the world as Easter dawns tomorrow.

In Hope the 24th annual Easter Sunrise Service will be held once again in the stadium at Hope High School. For the past four years this service has been in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, as Easter came earlier in the season and the weather was too cool for outdoor services.

The first Community Easter Morning Prayer Service in Hope was held on March 28, 1937 at the high school stadium. This was at the suggestion of Roy Anderson who presented the proposal to the Hope Ministerial Alliance.

All agreed that an outdoor service would be inspirational and supremely fitting for Easter morning. Mr. Anderson was made chairman of a Layman's Committee from the churches of Hope to make arrangements for the service and he has held that position ever since.

About the first Easter Sunrise Service in Hope Miss Beryl Henry who was then Superintendent of Schools, said "It is entirely fitting that the first meeting of any kind to be held here (the stadium) be dedicated to the hope and happiness of the youth of this community."

The idea of a Union Sunrise Service on Easter morning in other parts of the country was first popularized largely by the efforts of Homer Rodeheaver, distinguished song leader and gospel song writer and composer, who for years was associated with Billy Sunday, well-known evangelist.

The cup of inspiration known as the Easter Sunrise has become an American institution. Hundreds of thousands of people everywhere will take part in these Sunrise Services this Easter.

For Hope and vicinity the Sunrise Service, sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance will be held in the high school stadium at 6:30 a.m.; or, in case of inclement weather, in the high school auditorium.

The Rev. Rufus Sorrells, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will deliver the message, and all other members of the alliance, local pastors, will take part on the program.

We echo the words of Miss Henry in 1937 who concluded her remarks by saying, "let us be a part of your Easter worship to attend the service at sunrise on Easter Sunday morning."

Gas Pipeline Industry to Be Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators will look into the activities of all major U.S. gas pipeline companies to determine the extent of off-the-record contacts with the Federal Power Commission.

This was disclosed today by a source who asked not to be identified. He said an effort will be made to determine whether such contacts are accepted practice in the industry.

He said the broadened inquiry would extend to all major pipeline companies fall into this category. Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) whose Legislative Oversight subcommittee is launching the comprehensive study, was not available for comment.

However, the abrupt decision to expand the scope of the investigation reportedly was prompted by a statement by a pipeline official that private approaches to the FPC are "accepted practice."

The statement was made last week by Gardiner Symonds, board chairman of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and of its subsidiary, Midwestern Gas Transmission Co. at a meeting of Tennessee Gas stockholders in Houston, Tex.

Prime Minister Giving Orders

SPRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd has resumed issuing orders about government affairs, a medical bulletin disclosed today.

Verwoerd is recovering rapidly from an attempt on his life Saturday was announced at Pretoria General Hospital.

Governors Discuss 1960 Conference

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus met today with officials of the Southern Governors' Conference to discuss initial plans for the group's 1960 meeting.

Faubus is host to the conference, which will meet in Hot Springs Sept. 27-30.

Governors of 16 states are members.

Brevard E. Cribfield of Chicago, who is secretary of both the Southern and National Governors' Conference, was accompanied to Little Rock by Peyton Winfrey Jr., an executive aide to Gov. J. Lindsey Almond of Virginia.

Almond is chairman of the Southern Conference.

Faubus said he would appoint an aide to handle planning for the conference but that this probably would not be done until after this summer's Democratic primary.

Says Faubus Trying to Buy Election

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus confirmed today that he is having a dinner for some friends at the Mansion tonight.

But Faubus said a report that it would be a $1,000 a plate affair was "entirely erroneous."

Ally Gen. Bruce Bennett, who is opposing Faubus' bid for a fourth term, charged last night that Faubus had invited about 150 persons to a $1,000-a-plate dinner to raise funds to buy the election.

Faubus appeared amused as he discussed the dinner at a news conference.

"I see no harm in anyone—governor or anybody else—having a dinner for his friends," Faubus said.

Faubus declined to say how many persons had been invited or whether campaign financing would be discussed.

"But I will say that when a person running for office gets together with his friends politics is quite likely to be mentioned," Faubus said.

Questioned about Bennett's charge that state funds might be used to pay for the dinner, Faubus said, "We'll let Mr. Bennett worry about that."

Faubus said the Mansion received a call last night from a caterer who had been contacted by someone else to provide food. "We knew nothing about this," Faubus said.

"Maybe we'll have caterers and maybe we won't. My wife is a very good cook."

"For 150 people?" a reporter asked.

The governor laughed. "And for $1,000 dollars a plate?" asked another newsmen.

"Oh yes, my wife can cook very good for that," Faubus said.

Bennett charged that the gathering would have a strong representation of railroad and utility executives and their attorneys.

"This is a feeble attempt by the governor to buy an election," Bennett declared. "He knows he doesn't have a chance for re-election otherwise."

"Everybody knows that the big donors will try to get their money back," Bennett declared. "And the people of Arkansas will eventually pay those $1,000 bills thrown on the collection plate."

Bennett said the dinner was "hush-hush."

"I assume the food will be at state expense," he added.

"This is another exhibition of trying to run roughshod over the wishes of the people."

Bennett said Faubus held a similar dinner two years ago before he ran successfully for a third term.

"This is but a feeble attempt to buy the governor to buy an election," Bennett added. "He knows he doesn't have a chance for re-election otherwise."

Cancellation Is Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has upheld acting Director Ted R. Christy's cancellation of a beer permit to Everett Daniels, operator of the Variety Club in Pine Bluff.

Christy had canceled the permit after Daniels was charged with selling beer to minors. Daniels was charged with selling beer to minors.

Read Given a Total of 23 Years in Prison

In Hempstead Circuit Court on Friday afternoon Judge Lyle Brown sentenced Frank Edwin Read, 24, Ft. Worth, Texas, to a total of 23 years in the Arkansas penitentiary. He was given 12 years on one count of armed robbery and eight years on another robbery charge and three years for burglary. He entered a plea of guilty to all three charges which were in connection with an outbreak of shootings and robberies here a little over a week ago, on April 7.

Read pleaded innocent to three counts of assault with intent to kill, one grand larceny and one of possessing a stolen car.

He admitted wounding a service station attendant in a $100 robbery and to pistol whipping an attendant in a $45 station holdup and wounding a Hope man who scuffled with him after he wrecked a stolen car used in the crime spree.

In other action two men charged with burglary and grand larceny in Lafayette county were sentenced to three years on each count of burglary and two on grand larceny. They are Willie Walker and Wallace Deats.

Will Marshall, pleaded guilty to possession of a still, given one year and a day. Commitment delayed until July on $500 bond.

W. C. Flennons, five year suspended sentence on a charge of carnal abuse.

Sarah Smith and Mary Donnan, possession of untaxed liquor, three years suspended sentence.

Uninspected Planes to Be Grounded

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Vance Hartke (D-Ind.) said today the Civil Aeronautics Board has recommended that all uninspected Electra prop-jet planes be grounded but E. R. Quesada, federal aviation administrator, has turned the proposal down.

"I am shocked that Gen. Quesada would take the chance of ignoring this advice and risk further death from these planes," Hartke said in a written statement to newsmen.

Hartke said he and CAB investigators are convinced that "a structural defect was the apparent cause of the crash" of an Electra near Tell City, Ind., which killed 63 persons recently.

Hartke said Quesada had just confirmed to him that the CAB had made the grounding recommendation at a closed-door meeting Thursday, and that Quesada does not intend to ground the four-engine planes.

Hartke quoted Quesada as stating to him that of 42 Electra planes inspected by CAB as part of a safety campaign stemming from the Tell City crash, "39 showed cracks in a wing tab."

He said Quesada contends that "does not make them dangerous and the cracks can be repaired."

Hartke estimated the 42 planes represent about 60 per cent of the Electras now in use.

Bomarc Missile Test Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force today failed again to launch a Bomarc-B interceptor missile over a full-range course. It was the eighth unsuccessful Bomarc-B flight in as many tries from this missile test center.

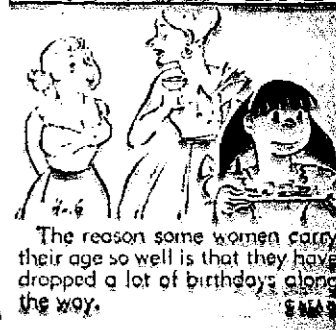

An announcement half an hour after launch gave no indication what went wrong.

The 47 foot swept wing missile was programmed for a more than 400-mile flight.

On Wednesday, the controversial anti-aircraft weapon registered its first successful flight at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., traveling a limited range 170-mile course.

Last month the Air Force ordered the Bomarc program slashed 370 million dollars from the 420 million asked for the missile in fiscal 1961.

Rockefeller Show Signs of Comeback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nelson A. Rockefeller, who ruled himself out of the race for the Republican presidential nomination last December, is showing distinct signs of edging back in.

Item: Next week he'll start a series of out-of-state tours, speaking for Republican candidates and displaying his smiling personality again among Republican politicians in many parts of the country.

Item: He still refuses to endorse Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP nomination. Asked Thursday if he had any doubt Nixon would be nominated, he replied "I don't want to discuss it."

Item: He has not ruled out convention draft. He says he doesn't expect one, but will "cross that bridge, if it comes." The kind of straw in the wind that cheer Rockefeller's ardent admirers came Thursday from Denver, Colo., when the Denver Post said editorially Rockefeller appears to be "the most attractive Republican candidate that could be offered."

Nixon's own preconvention policy, in the meantime, got a nod from Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Said Dirksen, "I think his present technique is pretty good."

West Virginia's Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood said in New York that while Rockefeller would make "a very strong candidate," right now Mr. Nixon is the strongest candidate he has. He added, "I do not foresee any change in the national picture."

In the Democratic race Sen. J. Kennedy (D-Mass) was the leading candidate for the party's nomination in the opinion of a large majority of potential Pennsylvania convention delegates who answered an Associated Press questionnaire.

The AP asked the delegate candidates who they thought was the leading man, not necessarily their own first choice. Thirty-four of 41 who replied said Kennedy.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Ill.), concentrating on what may be a crucial test for him in the May 10 West Virginia primary against Kennedy, has shifted about half of his Washington headquarters staff to that state.

That gave rise to some talk that he is short of campaign money and might be prevented from carrying out his West Virginia campaign as planned. An aide scotched the report, said Humphrey will continue with his plans in West Virginia and elsewhere. He added that Humphrey has made no secret of his financial problems but the campaign is solvent.

In Sacramento, Calif. Gov. Edmund G. Brown said it was "absolutely not true" that he has decided to support Kennedy. "I have not committed myself to Sen. Kennedy in any way whatsoever, or to anyone else," he added.

Appeal by Greek Boy Brings Help

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A little Greek boy, his life in danger, appealed to a stranger in America for help.

It's going to get it.

Four-year-old Stellas Parthenopolis left home today on a flight to New York for a rare heart operation which holds hope for his future.

If all started with a pathetic question from little Stellas: "Do you think that the heart of a child has to stop because his father has no money to pay for an operation?"

This plight was described in a letter handwritten in faltering English to John O. B. Wallace, an Associated Press writer in New York whose own health had been restored by delicate heart surgery.

"I write to you by the hand of my doctor, the hand that brought me into the world," the small boy said. "It is from my doctor that I have heard about your heart operation."

"I suffer from my heart too, that is why I write to you. You will understand me better. The specialists of Greece say that unless an operation would be done, one year later I shall die."

"There are only the American hospitals where my operation can be done. I have no money to pay. My father is a poor workman."

"Will you speak to Dr. Aaron N. Gorelik to operate me? Will you tell him that I have no money? The moment when you are reading my letter, my parents will be kneeling in prayer and I too."

Dr. Gorelik is the international known New York heart surgeon who operated on Wallace.

The newsman's subsequent AP story about the procedure, during which he remained conscious, was widely printed throughout the world. The lad's physician, Dr. Jordan Hadjiantassios, read the account in Reader's Digest.

The child's plea, resulting from the story, was one of several his doctor had made to various American institutions and individuals—without getting any answer. But he did get one from Wallace—that he'd do what he could.

"How could you ignore an appeal like that?" Wallace said. "It's that simple. I had faced the same thing this boy faced. I feel I owe somebody something for my own health. It's almost as if I feel responsible for this boy's life."

But long, complicated details had to be worked out to make the trip possible.

Leading specialists here examined the boy again, reported his condition grave, and sent findings to Dr. Gorelik, who agreed to perform the operation free.

American Missions to Greeks, Inc., an interdenominational agency headed by biblical scholar Spiros Zodhiates and which has a care program for the sick, aged and orphaned here, is providing travel aid and costs of special nurses, drugs and interpreters.

Parkchester General Hospital, in New York, is providing a large private room for the boy and his mother, who is accompanying him, as well as basic hospital facilities for the surgery.

Dr. Louis Suchoff, head of Allied Medical Laboratories in New York, has agreed to furnish all laboratory tests and X-rays without charge.

Giant Radio Telescope Big Project

SUGAR GROVE, W. Va. (AP)—The giant radio telescope which is being built for the Navy here is an engineering project of staggering size, quite apart from the fact that it is expected to push study of the universe far behind present limits.

Construction is only 4 per cent finished and completion is at least two years off. But Navy scientists, engineers and builders vouch for these statements:

It will be not only the world's biggest radio telescope, but also the world's largest movable structure.

The highest point will be 665 feet above the ground, the equivalent of a 66-story building. The Washington Monument is 555 feet high.

The main part of the structure will be "the big dish," a saucer-shaped antenna 600 feet in diameter. It will tune in on radio waves given off by stars and planets.

Congress already has provided 79 million dollars for the project, to be known as the U.S. Naval Radio Research Station. But before it is finished, the project may cost more than 100 million dollars.

The construction site is on a knoll in the South Fork Valley of Pendleton County. The valley is on the West Virginia side of Shenandoah Mountain in the Alleghenies.

denying a published report. Brown will lead the California Democratic delegation to the convention as a favorite son candidate.

In New York, a newly formed Stevenson for president committee said it will seek a million or more signatures there urging that Adlai Stevenson, two-time party nominee, be nominated again.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Many of your informative letters have aided us and as a result, we are now all happily married. We grew up together in the same town and were married when we were quite young. Our parents didn't approve of young marriages but realized that we were in love, and didn't try to stop us.

To some, life in such a small town may seem boring, but not to us. We enjoy square dancing, church socials, and have formed a dramatics group with other young couples in the vicinity.

Perhaps this doesn't sound very exciting to city dwellers, but with our wonderful families, we are really enjoying life. — Four Happy Housewives, Paradise, Nova Scotia

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I read the advice you gave the Indian girl about cosmetics, manners and colors. I'm also Indian. Warm colors do more for my complexion than neutral shades. My colors are all the colors of the rainbow. The only makeup I wear, unless I go out for the evening, is lipstick.

People look at me, wherever I go. If they didn't, I would feel unimportant. I wear good clothes, am wellgroomed and put my best foot forward. I practice the golden rule, enjoy friends and discourage the idea of feeling

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I liked your answer to the part Indian girl who tried to change her looks so she won't look like an Indian.

Your advice to be proud of her heritage was just what I would have told her.

I wish I had a girl like her for my daughter. I had a lovely daughter who died when she was 17. I hope the Indian girl sees this letter.—D.A.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My church work gives me comfort—that and my four fine children—but I am still very lonely. Would you send the names of some correspondence clubs. I enjoy writing and getting letters. Have you any suggestions?—Mrs. E.M.

Dear Mrs. E.M.: My Pen Pal leaflet goes to you today. Have you a hobby? If so, why not try to expand your social life by joining a local hobby club?

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX, Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

THE STORY: Left a widow by Mark's sudden death in a car accident, Rose Holmes is dazed and alone. She feels as if she were in the darkness of a tunnel. But her children must be cared for and Rose asks her daughter Debbie if she would like to go to Renwick, a boarding school in the fall. Rose's mother Ruth tries to console her.

CHAPTER XII

On the day Ruth left she said to Rose, "You said something about picking up the pieces. Are you?"

"I'm trying."

"But you drop them, don't you? Oh, you're efficient, Rose, and on the outside, quiet. Are you really planning to live alone?"

"Why not? In another year Debbie would be in college anyway, providing she keeps up her grades."

"You know what you want," Ruth said and pushed her hand through her thick, white curls. "I can't advise you, except why, when you get the children settled, don't you take a job? I know you weren't trained for anything and married at 19, but there must be things you can do."

"At this point I don't want to do anything other than I'm doing now."

"I understand that. But, later?" She added, "You aren't the only widow in the world, Rose, and you're more fortunate than many. Mark took good care of you and the children. You can, with economizing, live much as you have lived—for quite a while."

"The children's educations are taken care of," Rose interrupted. "After that, they'll be supporting themselves."

"Well, have you considered selling this house? You don't need all the room."

"It isn't a very big house," Rose argued, "just a room apiece—the guest room and the servants' quarters over the garage, which, I admit, we don't use."

"There's the land."

Rose felt anger rise in her and was sorry. But no one could pretend that she felt as if she lacked a skin—aren't you supposed to have seven layers?—one, at least was missing now, as if it had been flayed off. The slightest intimate touch, however well meant, was painful.

She said shortly, "I'll cross that bridge when I come to it."

Ruth was silent. She heard her husband's step in the hall and said, "There's John."

She was careful now not to make a display of the affection she felt for her husband. She said, "When your father died, couldn't let Gwen take the major burden. I kept on working and thanked God for it."

"Of course," Rose said, indifferently, "the universal panacea." Ruth got to her feet. She said, "I'm sorry. I didn't mean to hurt you."

"You haven't," Rose said lightly, nor had she really.

Presently they'd be gone—John and Ruth, Lou and Gwen—but people kept dropping in. So Rose wouldn't be lonely. Would she stop by for a drink—not a party? Would she care to see a movie, lunch in the village, come for dinner?

Sometimes she went: sometimes she had a difficult problem. She could not endure being at home. She had a difficult problem. She could not endure being at home. She had a difficult problem. She could not endure being at home.

Kidnapers of French Child Are Caught

PARIS (AP)—The French news agency reported today three kidnapers of little Eric Peugeot have been arrested.

Blinking back tears, his father, Roland Peugeot, appeared to speak freely to hundreds of newsmen. "I am very happy. I hardly think there is anything more to say."

Then, he led his wife and two sons, Eric and 7-year-old Jean Philippe, before a battery of photographers for a few seconds.

The father read a brief statement saying: "I acted absolutely alone, without the aid of the police, in obtaining the release of Eric."

He made no mention of the ransom and answered no questions about it.

Police Inspector Albert Gillet told newsmen "we can give no information on the ransom."

Gillet said search for the kidnapers got started in earnest after the boy was freed at 1 a.m.

"We promised the family," he said, "we did not wish to do anything to frighten the kidnapers."

He said Eric had been unable to give more than a superficial account of his captivity and the men who held him.

"At one point," the French News Agency reported, "two men and a woman had been arrested in Paris as the boy's kidnapers. But within minutes, national police headquarters denied the story."

The 4-year-old heir to a French automobile empire was found unharmed, crying on a sidewalk within half a mile of his home shortly before 1 a.m. today. He said he had been left there by two men, apparently the same pair who whisked him away from the playground at an exclusive St. Cloud Country Club Tuesday afternoon.

The newspaper France-Soir reported that Eric's father, Roland Peugeot, said he had paid a ransom to the kidnapers Thursday afternoon. The amount was not revealed, but the abductors had demanded $100,000.

Eric and his parents were in their sixth-floor apartment this morning, the drapes drawn and four police on guard outside.

"To get Eric released I scrupulously followed the conditions of the kidnapers," Peugeot was reported to have said. "I had to have confidence in them. They asked me to deliver the ransom to a specific place. I did it. Then there was nothing to do but wait. The last hours by the telephone were the most cruel."

Eric was examined by a doctor and pronounced in good health. Questioned closely, he said: "I didn't know the two men who took me away in a car. They didn't take me far. It was in a ground floor apartment. They had a television set. They didn't hurt me."

Then, snuggling up to his father, he added, "I am very happy now."

New Hampshire Forgives Man

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—New Hampshire today forgave a Templeton, Mass., man for an admitted boyhood crime, and paid the way for his return to the job he loves—that of a small town police chief.

"Thank you, gentlemen, from the bottom of my heart," John L. Whipple told Gov. Wesley Powell and his executive council as they voted unanimously to pardon him.

Whipple, 55, was given indefinite leave as Templeton police chief March 19 because of a Massachusetts law which prohibits anyone with a record for felony from serving as a police officer.

Whipple admitted he took part in an attempted holdup 35 years ago in Kings, N. H. He received a suspended sentence for what was "the only offense in his life."

Joseph B. Moulton, chairman of the Templeton board of selectmen, who has been serving as temporary police chief, said "now we'll put the real chief back into action as soon as we can."

Prescott News

Mrs. John McLelland Honored
Mrs. John McLelland was honored at a stork shower Monday in the social room of the First Baptist Church. Hostesses were Mrs. Bobby Whitmarsh, Mrs. Nat Woosley and Mrs. Thell Hanning. Mrs. David Hanning and Mrs. Bobby Woosley were assistant hostesses.

Yellow and green were the predominate colors in decorations and refreshments. The baby was given a corsage of baby rattle, ribbon, a doll face with a bonnet of pink ribbon and lace was attached to the center rattle. Her many lovely gifts were arranged on a table covered with a white lace cloth over yellow. A huge green nest in the center of the table held a miniature doll and small gift packages and standing nearby were two storks.

A potted plant of yellow mums was placed on a table at the entrance of the hall and another table held a huge nest of purple grass. A large basket filled with yellow and purple Dutch iris and an orchid and yellow bunny.

Each guest was presented a scroll with a poem entitled "From The New Baby." Mrs. David Hanning directed several games and prizes were won by Mrs. Sid Purdie and Mrs. Ralph Fore.

Individual cakes topped with a nut of green coconut filled with assorted jelly beans and coffee were served to 30 guests.

AMERICA AFLOAT NEW PRODUCTS, MAKE FITTING, QUT EASIER

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN Editor, Popular Boating

Boating is not far away, but the weather turns too rainy for painting and cold winds distribute chills about boatyards.

This is, in fact, a month when pleasure craft skippers across the country start painting, polishing and overhauling boats.

No boat is completely maintenance free, but many now require much less bother in the boatyard. That allows much more time afloat.

Modern improvements this year make fitting out even easier.

Marine paint companies are now producing liquid coatings that literally turn to plastic as they harden. Usually two ingredients must be used and once combined remain liquid only briefly before they start to harden.

Based on epoxy resins, these finishes are hard enough to hold their tough and colorful surface through several seasons.

Another innovation is improved flexible sealing compound. Made from the same remarkable new Thiokol that fuels rockets, these new adhesives caulk seams tightly and expand and contract with the boat so that a waterproof seal is maintained.

Should your boat need repairs this spring, investigate the fiber glass kits. They can be used to patch a punctured hull, cover a worn rub rail to prevent chafing, or be taken ashore to fix non nautical furniture around the house.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best spot that each day has to offer.

The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

NEW PRODUCTS, MAKE FITTING, QUT EASIER

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN Editor, Popular Boating

The trip was made aboard the 150 foot vessel "Deep-Sea" owned by Howard Wakefield, vice president of Wakefield Fisheries, who organized the expedition.

The crew of the "Deep-Sea" visited the crews, enjoyed Soviet and American motion pictures together. There were exchanges of gifts and other friendly gestures.

The visit revealed that the Soviet Union has established a floating city with a degree of permanence that is surprising. The ships rotate every four months.

"We want to cooperate with you in the Bering Sea fishery," Cmdr.

Based on epoxy resins, these finishes are hard enough to hold their tough and colorful surface through several seasons.

Another innovation is improved flexible sealing compound. Made from the same remarkable new Thiokol that fuels rockets, these new adhesives caulk seams tightly and expand and contract with the boat so that a waterproof seal is maintained.

Should your boat need repairs this spring, investigate the fiber glass kits. They can be used to patch a punctured hull, cover a worn rub rail to prevent chafing, or be taken ashore to fix non nautical furniture around the house.

The only drawback when an experienced boatman employs these items is that he may still believe the instruction sheet are unnecessary. These developments are not difficult to use when applied as the manufacturer intended, but their hard wearing qualities can also fight off paint removers, sandpapers and solvents.

The skipper who improves his own methods may wish to sell his boat rather than try to correct mistakes he made while applying these wonder products.

Properly handled, the paints, adhesives and fiberglass may well be protecting you boat through a number of springs.

Chou Proclaims Friendship, Peace

By MAX McGRATH

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China arrived here today proclaiming peace and friendship between Peiping and nationalist nations.

Holiday-minded Burmese celebrating their annual water festival, literally drenched him in a friendly welcome.

The reception, with Chou dressed in Burmese native costume, augured well for his fence-mending tour of Burma, India and Nepal.

The happy Burmese got so carried away that even the chief of military security joined in showering water on Chou and his party. Dripping wet, the usually sober Communist leader eagerly shook hands with local celebrators.

Matter of FACT

A rat's teeth grow about four inches a month. To keep the teeth the proper length the rat chews on anything he can find. He is one of the most destructive animals in the world. It is not that he eats so much—he just chews so much.

Group Visits Floating City of Fishermen

Editors Note: A group of Alaskans visited a Soviet "floating city" of fishermen in the Bering Sea. Among the Americans was a newsman who here relates their findings.

By ROBERT B. ATWOOD Editor, Anchorage Daily Times

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Soviet Union fishermen have a "floating city" of 2,500 persons in the Bering Sea off Alaska, operating year-around despite the ice pack, but insisting they are taking only fish passed up by Americans.

"If fishery problems in the Bering Sea became a choice of friendship or fish," their commander told a visiting group of Alaskans, "we would withdraw in favor of friendship."

The Alaskans have just returned here after a week's trip into Bering pack ice led them to a fleet of 58 ships of the Soviet expedition.

It was believed the first time any foreigners had been allowed aboard the Soviet vessels operating off Alaska. The Alaskans were welcomed as friends and neighbors.

The trip was made aboard the 150 foot vessel "Deep-Sea" owned by Howard Wakefield, vice president of Wakefield Fisheries, who organized the expedition.

The crew of the "Deep-Sea" visited the crews, enjoyed Soviet and American motion pictures together. There were exchanges of gifts and other friendly gestures.

POWER that sustains may be found thru regular church attendance

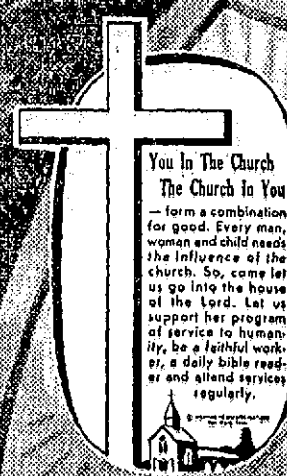

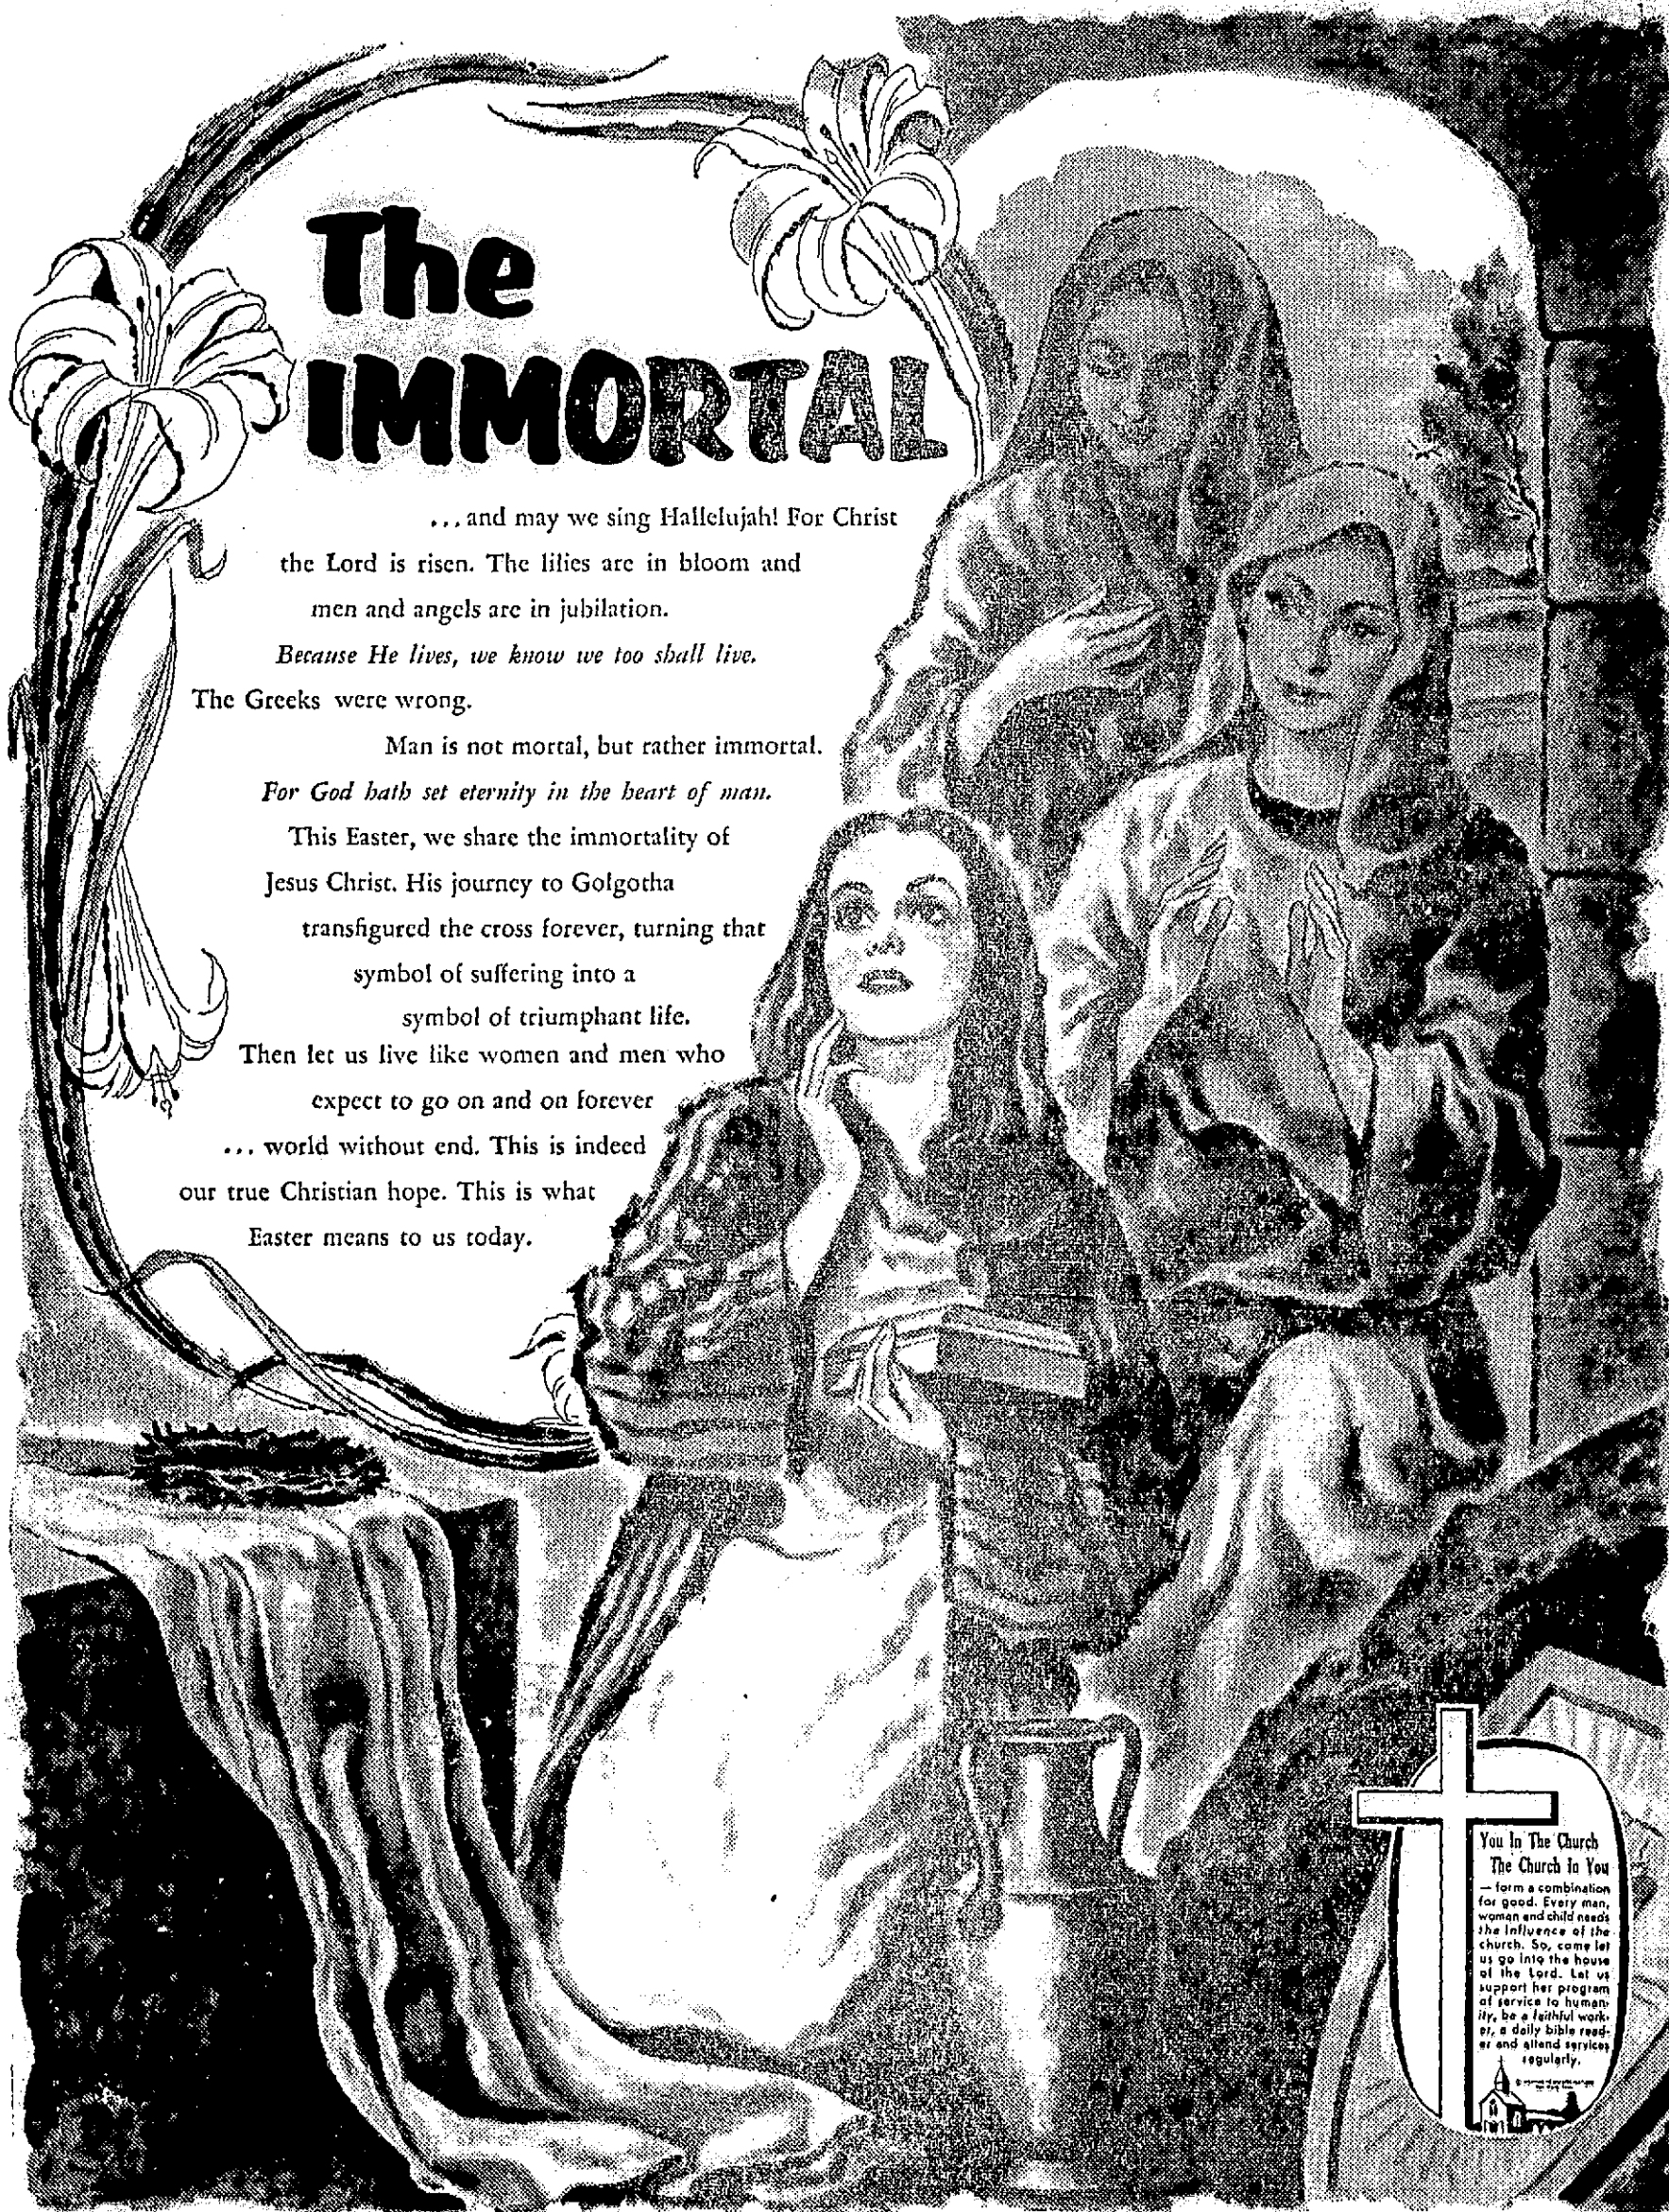

The IMMORTAL

... and may we sing Hallelujah! For Christ the Lord is risen. The lilies are in bloom and men and angels are in jubilation.
Because He lives, we know we too shall live.
The Greeks were wrong.
Man is not mortal, but rather immortal.
For God hath set eternity in the heart of man.
This Easter, we share the immortality of Jesus Christ. His journey to Golgotha transfigured the cross forever, turning that symbol of suffering into a symbol of triumphant life.
Then let us live like women and men who expect to go on and on forever
... world without end. This is indeed our true Christian hope. This is what Easter means to us today.

The Church In You
— form a combination
for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us
support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
